Sophomores no longer have to live on campus

by Melinda DeVries

Beginning this fall, sophomores at Eastern will no longer be required to live in residence halls, Lou Hencken, director of student housing, said Monday.

Hencken said the new policy is necessary because "we can no longer accommodate all the students who request on-campus housing."

Eastern has received 3,095 housing applications for the fall 1980 semester, compared to 2,620 received a year ago, Hencken said.

The housing applicants included in the 3,095 figure are only those applicants who are first-time students to the university and not those who currently live in residence halls, he said.

Hencken said the residence halls have been operating beyond normal capacity for the past few years, and since the number of applications for the fall semester is up 475 from last year, the new policy was implemented.

The normal capacity of the residence halls is 4,257, Hencken said, and approximately 4,500 students have been housed through conversion of floor lounges to residence areas.

Hencken said although the new policy will be used in the fall, floor lounges will still have to be used in order to accommodate all applicants.

He said he hopes that a policy change now will persuade students who currently live on campus and do not like the residence halls to find a place off campus for the fall semester.

Hencken said freshmen students will still be required to live in a residence hall.

He said the freshman-sophomore policy was adopted in 1972 after university officials found that freshmen and sophomores who lived in the residence halls could adapt to college life better and therefore made better grades.

Hencken said although this concept is still true, it is more important to get the freshmen in the residence halls than the sophomores.

"Each year the waiting list for freshmen to get into the residence halls gets longer and this is the best type of policy that I can see to use in order to get more freshmen into the halls," he said.

Carter breaks off relations; will take action against Iran

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter broke diplomatic relations with Iran on Monday, gave Iranian diplomats 24 hours to leave the United States and cut off virtually all remaining trade between the two nations.

In a move designed to spur release of 50 Americans who have been held hostage in Tehran since last Nov. 4, Carter warned that "other actions may be necessary."

Carter, in an announcement broadcast live from the White House press room, said his government has shown "exceptional patience and restraint" in trying to resolve the stalemate.

But he said the refusal of the Iranian government to assume control of the hostages from the militants who have held them for more than five months "lays full responsibility" for the crisis on Iran's revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and Iran's governing Revolutionary Council.

Earlier in the day, Khomeini personally blocked the Iranian government from taking control of the hostages.

Carter listed four actions he is taking against Iran:

—"The United States is breaking diplomatic relations with Iran," said Carter. He said "Iranian diplomatic and consular personnel have been declared persona non grata and must leave the country by midnight tomorrow."

—Treasury Secretary G. William Miller will prohibit virtually all exports from the United States to Iran. This will virtually eliminate trade, even in food and medicine, which were exempt from earlier sanctions Carter imposed.

—Miller will make an inventory of outstanding claims of American citizens and corporations against the government of Iran with the aim of seizing assets of the Iranian government in the United States to finance settlement of claims by hostages and their families. Carter said his administration is preparing special legislation to speed the payment of claims.

—All visas issued to Iranians for entry into the United States have been declared invalid, effective immediately, and no visas will be issued or renewed "except for compelling and proven humanitarian reasons or where the national interest requires."

"The hostages and their families—indeed, all of us in America—have lived with the reality and the anguish of their captivity for five months," Carter said.

"The steps I have ordered today are those that are necessary now," he said. "Other actions may become necessary if these steps do not produce the prompt release of the hostages."

Earlier Monday, Khomeini's office announced that the 79-year-old revolutionary leader had rejected Iranian President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr's proposal to transfer custody of the Americans to the ruling Revolutionary Council.

The hostages will remain under the control of their militant captors until the new Iranian Parliament decides their fate, it said. Such a decision may be months away.

Eastern receives funding to conduct energy study

by Marsha Hausser

The Department of Energy has given Eastern a $35,000 grant to conduct an energy study on five university buildings as part of a state-wide effort on the part of universities to conserve energy.

The grant will allow Eastern to study ways in which energy could be conserved in Carman Hall, the Fine Arts Building, the Lantz Building, Old Main and the University Union. The study will be a preliminary step in making the improvements necessary to conserve energy, George Miller, Eastern vice president for administration and finance, said.

Before the study can begin, approximately $10,000 may be necessary to pay for architectural fees, Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin said. Miller said the cost will be large because the study will require employing expert people and the use of specialized equipment.

Thus, the funding will require approval by the Board of Governors. Any expenditure of state money over $10,000 must be approved by the BOG.

At the BOG meeting March 27, Marvin asked the board to form an executive committee to decide whether Eastern can receive state money for the architect fees.

The program requires Eastern to match this state funding through paying personal and engineering costs incurred during the study, Miller said.

Executive Director of the BOG Donald Walters said he thinks the study is a "step in the right direction" of energy conservation, and he does not see any problems with the board approving the $10,000 request.

Miller said the five buildings that were designated for the study were ones which can benefit most by it.

Eastern's Energy Conservation Task Force, headed by Marty Ignazito, has been involved in identifying what areas at Eastern need to become more energy efficient. The task force, along with the administration will be working in conjunction with the architect hired to do the study, Miller said.

Miller said Eastern has "worked very hard for the money" to fund the energy study, making contacts with federal and state legislative representatives to get support for Eastern.

The study must be completed by June 30, 1980 or the funding will be taken away, Miller said.

City to vote on bond issue

Charleston voters will decide Tuesday whether to approve a $4.2 million bond issue for the side channel reservoir.

The city council called the referendum to finance a proposed side channel reservoir estimated to cost $3.9 million.

The referendum is for issuance of general obligation bonds, which the council believes are the most economic means of financing the project.

According to a city council majority, the issue is not deciding whether or not to approve the side channel, but deciding how to finance the project.

If this referendum fails, the council majority said it will proceed with construction through more expensive revenue bonds.

Any voter registered in Charleston is eligible to vote on the bond issue. Polling places for the referendum are the same as in the March 18 primary. The polls will be open from 6 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Another issue to be voted on Tuesday concerns a cemetery tax. Any registered voter in the township is eligible to vote on a proposed two cent per $100 assessed evaluation tax for the general upkeep and construction costs in about 13 area cemeteries.

The polling place for the cemetery tax referendum is located on the second floor of the Charleston National Bank building, 418 6th St. The poll will be open from 2:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., Charleston Town Clerk Bill Hall said Monday.

Nuclear leaks pose no danger

No danger is posed to public health by the levels of radioactive gas and water released from two nuclear plants owned and operated by Commonwealth Edison Co. last week, Nuclear Regulatory Commission spokesmen say.

The Chicago-based utility notified the NRC that water containing low levels of radioactivity was released Thursday, Friday and Saturday into the Illinois River from its Dresden nuclear plant near Morris, Ill., the NRC said.

FALN members protest hearing

Demanding treatment as prisoners of war, eleven suspected members or associates of the Puerto Rican terrorist group FALN had to be pushed or carried into a heavily guarded courtroom Monday for a hearing on theft and weapons charges in Evanston.

The suspects screamed and shouted Nationalist slogans as they entered the courtroom. They called themselves "Puerto Rican freedom fighters" and one of the women suspects chanted, "Grand jury, FBI, U.S. justice is a lie."

Sadat arrives for talks

President Carter, beset by a new rebuff from Iran, will be striving for new success in the Middle East in his summit talks with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat over some form of self-rule for more than 1 million Palestinian Arabs.

Sadat's arrival late Monday at Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland touches off two busy weeks in which Carter will try to accommodate Israel's security concerns with Palestinian aspirations for a homeland.

New position may help reduce TBL problems

by Sue Schlanser

A new position in Eastern's Textbook Library has been approved in an effort to help alleviate some of the problems students and faculty are having with getting their textbooks, Textbook Library Director Richard Sandefer said.

The position will be a full-time, civil service appointment, and has been approved by the civil service office, Sandefer said.

Sandefer said one of the responsibilities of the position will be to contact printing companies to find out if textbooks will be available before teachers assign them for their classes.

Sandefer said one of the major causes for the Textbook Library's inability to provide books is that some of the books ordered by faculty go out of print before the library is able to get them.

"When that happens, I contact three other book dealers to see if I can find other copies, but if I can't find them, there's nothing I can do," he said.

Company warehouses which hold the textbooks may also let the books run out of stock, Sandefer said.

Delays in receiving books may also be caused by copies which are out of stock temporarily, he said.

Sandefer said the printing companies do not have much correspondence with the Textbook Library about where the books are so that he is uncertain when book shipments will arrive.

He said he has the most trouble with minor printing companies and with companies who will deal only indirectly with the Textbook Library.

"I have to order some books through the Mattoon News," Sandefer said. "I get some of those direct, but some they have to get through a warehouse in Champaign."

Sandefer said another reason the Textbook Library runs out of books is because students who drop classes may not return the books until the end of the semester so that students who add the same classes may not get books.

Sandefer said another problem is caused when sections are added to classes after he has already estimated the number of books needed based on pre-registration figures.

Test, grade policies to be discussed

by Tinley Hanks

A proposal prohibiting instructors from giving tests five school days before finals and another concerning the grade repeat policy are among topics scheduled for discussion at the Faculty Senate meeting Tuesday.

Student Senate Academic Affairs Committee chairman Rick Colclasure will present a revised version of the proposal which attempted to prohibit teachers from giving tests the week before finals.

Faculty Senate members said such a plan would be a restriction of the instructor's right to teach the class as he chooses.

Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin said he would only approve the proposal if it received the support of the Faculty Senate.

A grade repeat policy proposal will also be considered by the senate.

This proposal provides that a student's cumulative grade average reflect only the second grade received after a student repeats a course. Both grades would appear on the official transcript.

The Faculty Senate will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the University Union Martinsville room.

For the record

Scheduled times for viewing platform speeches by candidates for student government executive positions will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. April 14 and 15 in the University Union video tape lounge.

The time and dates reported in Monday's election story in the News were incorrect.

Academic goals of break fall by the wayside

How many of you promised yourselves you would catch up with all the neglected term papers and semester reading assignments? Raise those hands to be counted among the multitude.

Now, who reached that goal? Just as I figured, not many academic milestones reached during the break.

Well, it only goes to right along with the college lifestyle of procrastinating to the final minute. This is especially true when the word vacation is used as the perfect excuse.

Who could bring books home to begin with, with all the dirty clothes, winter gear, and assorted odds and ends?

Besides, the first night was spent catching up with clan activities for the past couple of months.

The second day was taken up by laundry duty. The time spent here depends on the amount of dirt transported home which relates directly to the number of washings done at school. For some of us, it could take days to complete this sanitary ritual.

The second day also included meeting old friends at the local hang-out (a bar, no doubt) to swap tales of college in the wintertime. This rambling into the wee hours of the morning wipes out the third day (for the hangover is stronger than the body).

Monday was the fourth day, and who likes Mondays to begin with. So, the time spent here was total relaxation in any form--television meditation, vegetation into space, or raids on the icebox.

Tuesday, since Monday's routine was boring, was the day to explore town. The question is to find "Space Invaders" game to kill a couple of hours.

Wednesday, you find the machine and you go bust playing it. You can't go to the bank since your overdrawn there. Money, in turn reminds you of summer employment. It's depressing to think about finding work while your vacationing so you let the subject slide. Besides, maybe Carson will be on tonight, and his monologue is more important than exhausting energy trying to find factory work.

Thursday, you finally get on somebody's nerves. The relaxation that has become the dominant focus the past several days starts to bug the people around you. "Don't you have work to do?"

To calm complaints you take out the books you brought home, dust them

Eastern News Opinion/Commentary

off to read about 25 pages before your eyelids become so heavy from the boring material you fall asleep.

Thursday night was the start of the extended weekend with friends so the textbooks are thrown back into the suitcase never to be seen again. Friday, was party time after the last laundry load.

Saturday, the panic of packing overtakes the normal routine. Saturday night was the farewell Casablanca scene at the local pub. Sunday was spent flying along the interstate towards Charleston.

The first days of classes are academic aftershocks to the mind. The motivation to do work, completely drained during break, will take a couple of days to recover.

Until then, there's nothing else to do but relax.

Letter to the editor

Blood story

Editor:

This letter is a response to the March 18 letter to the editor written by Thomas Virz titled Blood Loss. I was not aware of the source of information of the alleged criticism stated in the T. Virz letter so I contacted the director of the Bi-State Division blood program in St. Louis for help. I have now received letters from the St. Louis Red Cross office and the National Office in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Virz was referring to an article written in the December 2, 1979, Parade magazine in which Senator Richard Schweiker was quoted with negative criticism of the Red Cross blood donor program. After the article was published nationally, the Red Cross provided Senator Schweiker and newspapers throughout the country with accurate information and pointed out the errors in his report.

Dr. Brian McDonough, M.D., administrator of the Bi-State Division of the Red Cross blood programs wrote me a letter dated March 26. I quote three paragraphs of his letter which I believe tell the Red Cross story much better than I could do:

"Due to the nature of blood products which have a finite life period, it is inevitable that some outdated will occur. This is not dissimilar to the dairy industry or the pharmaceutical industry wherein consumption cannot be accurately predicted within a framework that would preclude outdated.

Virtually every blood bank in the country today prepares multiple products from a single donation. Termed "component therapy" this practice enables physicians to transfuse that specific product required by patients. This practice also enables us to treat more than one patient with a single donation. The figures quoted by Dr. Barker pertain only to red cells and do not account for the many other products that we use under this component therapy program.

In the Missouri/Illinois Blood Services region, annual collections this year will approximate 185,000 donations. From these donations we prepare slightly more than 370,000 individual products, of which nearly 335,000 products will be transfused directly into patients or used in the preparation of plasma derivatives. In that effect is the assurance to each donor that at least a portion, if not the entire amount of their donation, was used in the treatment of patients.

An important distinction must be made between the terms "outdated" and "wastage." In virtually every case where a unit is returned to us outdated during its life span that unit was crossmatched and set up on a specific patient(s). A unit is considered "wasted" if it has not been sent to the hospital but discarded because it is unsuited for transfusion by virtue of irregular antibodies, positive to hepatitis test, or exposed to some bacterial agent. Units wasted in this region account for less than 1 percent of our total collection."

In behalf of the Coles County Chapter of the Red Cross I wish to thank the 1727 students, faculty and local residents who donated a pint of blood at the March 10-13 blood drive.

We are looking forward to you and many other concerned, and healthy, potential blood donors to join us at the fall drive.

Golfers place 6th among 14 teams

by Brian Nielsen

EDWARDSVILLE-Eastern's golf team opened its spring season by placing sixth in the 14-team Southern Illinois-Edwardsville Invitational the past weekend.

The Panthers' spring campaign was scheduled to begin March 28 at the Evansville Invitational, but that meet was rained out, giving Eastern a later start than many of the squads competing at Edwardsville.

"I thought we played well considering this was our first meet," coach J.W. Sanders said. "Western Michigan had already spent a week in Texas and some of the other teams had been playing, too, so I was very pleased with our performance."

"We'd had no opportunity to play in any tournaments and had limited time to practice because of the weather," Sanders said.

Western Michigan showed the advantages of prior playing time by edging out host Southern Illinois-Edwardsville for the team title Saturday.

Illinois State was third, Western Illinois fourth and Bradley fifth.

Eastern finished six strokes behind Bradley in the two-day affair.

The Panthers were led by Marty Robinson, who totaled a 155-score on the 36-hole, 144-par tournament. Robinson finished 17th in the field of 70 competitors.

Just one stroke behind Robinson was teammate Steve Spitler, who shot a 156.

Brett Voisin had a 161 score, Fred Martin a 163 and Bart Kerz a 168 for the Panthers.

The invitational's medalist was SIU-E's Les Agne, who shot a two-under-par 142.

The tournament's first round was played Friday at Granite City under "tremendously windy conditions", Sanders said, and the final 18 holes were played Saturday in O'Fallon.

Eastern was tied for fifth with Bradley after the first 18 holes.

SIU-E and Western Illinois are two of the squads Eastern is competing with for the region's three berths in the NCAA Division II championships slated for May 20-23 at Thibodeaux, La.

Sanders said his Panthers will face both teams three more times before the national bids are decided.

Eastern will compete against several Big Ten conference and other Division I teams Saturday at the Illinois Invitational in Champaign.

The Panthers then traveled to Florida Junior College at Jacksonville and demolished them 9-0.

"They beat ABAC the previous day and we played well to beat them so decisively," Sexton said.

Patterson defeated the No. 1 player 6-3, 7-5.

Branding and Hayden won at No. 3 and No. 4 7-5, 6-3 and 6-4, 6-4 respectively. Karsten and Buwick won 6-4, 6-3 and 6-1, 7-5.

Buwick won by default at No. 6.

Patterson and Hayden won in straight sets 7-6, 6-1 at No. 1.

Karsten and Buwick won a close match 6-7, 7-5, 7-5 at No. 2 as did Branding and Tuft 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.

The team was also scheduled to play Jacksonville University but it was cancelled because of rain.

Panthers complete trip with split at Bellarmine

by Dave Claypool

The sunshine and warm weather which Eastern's baseball team enjoyed on its Southern tour came to an end with the split of a double-header with Bellarmine College Saturday.

The Panthers, who finished the road trip with a disappointing 7-8 mark, took the first game of the day 5-3 behind the mighty bat of Marty Pulley, but fell in the nightcap, 7-3.

The senior catcher had just returned to the Panther lineup after sustaining an arm injury from a foul tip earlier in the road trip. But he had no trouble lifting a three-run homer in the fourth inning.

"Marty is swinging fairly well right now," Coach Tom McDevitt said. "But he'll have to work on getting his eye back and some of his timing."

The Panthers jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the first when shortstop Tom Detmer lined a double that brought in senior centerfielder Mark Steppe.

But Bellarmine stormed back to move out in front 2-1 in the third. That set the stage for Pulley's game-winning clout.

Designated hitter Rich Koenig led off the prosperous fourth with a walk and leftfielder Matt Cimo moved him to second with a sacrifice. Second baseman Mike Dooley then swatted a single and Steppe followed with his second base hit of the day, loading the bases.

Detmer's sacrifice fly tied up the contest at two, leaving two Panther runners remaining for Pulley.

A 400-foot blast to left-center by the Panther catcher put the visitors on top for good at 5-2.

Bellarmino mounted a mild rally in the seventh, scoring a run, but fell short to leave junior Randy Weibel with his third victory in four decisions.

In his fourth outing, Weibel fanned four while walking three and allowed six Bellarmine hits.

In the nightcap things didn't go quite as well for the Panthers.

After jumping out to an early lead, including two runs in the first off of a two-run single by Mike Nichols, the Panthers went downhill.

A grand slam off reliever Lenny Lundberg, one of the five hits for Bellarmine, proved too much for the Panthers.

Senior Myron Richardson started for the Panthers in the nightcap and was tagged with the loss, his second next to one victory.

"Myron is pitching real well at this point. He's doing much better than I had anticipated," McDevitt said.

The coach was also quick to point out that the injuries to his ballclub took their toll.

"Their injuries definitely hurt us, but I expect all of them, except for Elliott (Skorupa), to maybe be back in the lineup by the end of the week," the Panther coach said.

Injuries to Pulley, starting first baseman Gordon Smith, starting outfielder Ken Saxe and pitching ace Skorupa were all hard felt by McDevitt's crew.

"I wish that we could have brought home a better record," McDevitt said. "We lost three games that we never should have."

Softballers look for better luck at home

by Brian Nielsen

Eastern's softball team will be hoping for improved fortunes when it hosts Southern Illinois-Edwardsville in its home season opening double-header at 3 p.m. Tuesday.

The Panthers are just 3-6 after their first week of play which included two tournaments and a double-header date against predominantly AIAW Division I competition. And coach Lynette Nevins said things probably would not get any easier for her squad Tuesday.

"Edwardsville will probably be the toughest team we've faced yet," Nevins said. "They have a real tough pitcher by the name of Tammy Reinwater and a good overall team."

SIU-E has placed second in two tournaments so far including a March 28-30 meet in which Eastern took fourth. The Cougars and Panthers did not play each other in that tournament.

While Nevins pointed out the strength of SIU-E, she did not discount her squad's chances either.

"We're not as bad as our record indicates," the coach said. "It's just been a few little things that have gone wrong so far. We just haven't gotten any breaks."

"Almost all the teams we've played so far have been Division I teams, but we're not a Division I team right now."

Some untimely errors have been the Panthers' worst enemies so far.

"What we have to work on is not throwing the ball away," Nevins said. "That's how we're losing."

"Kathy (Richards) has an ERA well under two, but we've been losing on unearned runs," she added.

Richards, who has a 2-3 record and will be the starting pitcher in the first game Tuesday, split two games in last weekend's Missouri-St. Louis Invitational.

She topped Northeast Missouri State, but then was edged by UMSL 2-1.

In Eastern's other game at the UMSL tournament, William Penn of Iowa topped the Panthers 4-1. Holly VanRennen took the loss.

Nevins is also disappointed with her squad's anemic hitting.

Second baseman Jennifer Haley leads the team with a .305 average, but the next best is Richards' .270.

"I thought we'd be hitting a lot more than we are," Nevins said. "We're not getting the hitting from the people I thought we would."

"If our starting players don't start coming around, we are going to have to make some changes," she said.

Linda Ellsworth, who averaged 16 points and 10 rebounds per game this year, was recently named the Most Valuable Player of Eastern's women's basketball team. (News photo by Valerie Bosse)

Men netters finish 2-3 on southern trip

by Jill Anderson

Eastern's men's tennis team concluded its southern road trip last week by dropping three of five matches.

The netters defeated Mercer College and Florida Junior College and dropped matches to Valdosta State and two to Abraham Baldwin Agriculture College.

"We had a good trip," coach Carl Sexton said. "This trip set the stage for the rest of the season."

The Panthers captured their opening match 7-1 against Mercer College in Macon, Ga. March 29.

At the No. 1 spot Brad Patterson dropped a close three setter 7-6, 3-6, 3-6.

"Brad played a good match," Sexton said. "His opponent stayed with every shot and Brad had to put the ball away to win points."

Dave Branding at No. 2 won a tough three setter 3-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Rick Hayden, who was 4-1 for the week, won at No. 3 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Also sporting a 4-1 record, E.J. Karsten won at No. 4 6-0, 6-2. Bruce Perrin and Tim Buwick won at No. 5 and 6 6-4, 6-2 and 6-4, 6-1 respectively.

Patterson and Hayden's No. 1 doubles match was cancelled due to darkness. At No. 2 Karsten and Perrin won 6-3, 6-0 and Buwick and Jon Tuft won 6-3, 6-2 at No. 3.

The netters did not have as much good luck with Valdosta State, losing 9-0.

"Valdosta State is probably the second best team in Georgia," Sexton said. "They had a very strong team with strength all the way down the line."

Patterson dropped his match at No. 1 2-6, 1-6.

"Brad's opponent was probably the best player he's played against all season," Sexton said.

Branding lost at No. 2 0-6, 0-6 and Hayden dropped his match 4-6, 3-6.

"Rick was in his match the whole time. He had a chance of winning," Sexton said.

Perrin was defeated at No. 5 2-6, 5-7 and Buwick lost at No. 6 1-6, 3-6.

Patterson and Hayden lost a close three setter 4-6, 6-4, 2-6 at No. 1. Branding and Perrin also lost with almost identical scores 4-6, 6-4, 3-6.

Karsten and Tuft dropped their match at No. 3 3-6, 2-6.

The Panthers then traveled to Tifton, Ga. where they met Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College for a two dual meet. In their closest matches of the season, the netters lost 4-5 and 4-5.

Sexton said that many of the players from ABAC were from other countries so the players had a chance to play some international players.

"We did something unusual leaving the lineup intact for both days," Sexton said. "I think it was a challenge to play the same player twice."

Patterson lost his first match at No. 1 3-6, 6-7, but extended his opponent to three sets in his second match before succumbing 7-6, 6-2, 6-2.

At No. 2 Branding won a three setter 1-6, 6-4, 6-3, but bowed 6-7, 2-6 in his second match.

Hayden won both his matches in three sets, 6-0, 4-6, 7-6 and 3-6, 6-2, 6-2. Karsten captured both his matches in straight sets 6-3, 6-1 and 6-4, 6-2.

Perrin and Buwick dropped both their matches both days at No. 5 and No. 6.

The only bright spot in the doubles action was Karsten and Buwick's double victories, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4 and 7-6, 6-3.

Women cagers honor 3 players

Linda Ellsworth, Sandy Thorpe and Nancy Kassebaum were honored recently for their accomplishments with Eastern's 1979-80 women's basketball team.

Senior forward Ellsworth, who averaged 16 points and 10 rebounds per game, was voted her team's Most Valuable Player.

Junior guard Thorpe was named the squad's Most Improved Player.

Starting freshman guard Kassebaum, who averaged five steals per game, was voted the Panthers Best Defensive Player. In addition to her defensive exploits, Kassebaum also averaged 15 points per game.

Eastern won 20 games and lost 11 in 1979-80 and won the NCAA Division II state title. The Panthers also finished third in the Regional tournament in Green Bay, Wis.
